Foss Disturbed at Republican Campaigning

BECOMING MORE ACTIVE

Walsh Is the Star of the Democrat's Stump—Republican Have Plenty of Work on Their Hands.

Boston, Oct. 24.—Governor Foss, notwithstanding his outward optimism, is evidently becoming a little alarmed over his prospects. In no other way can his second hurried trip to the Berkshires, coupled with the announcement that he may go there again before election day, be accounted for.

Furthermore, there are evidences that Republicans who have been "off" for several years are coming back into line to help redeem the state. Indeed, some of those who have been the most disgruntled are showing the greatest activity for Frothingham now. Not only is this true of the west, but it applies to the situation throughout the Commonwealth.

Foss is not going to get the solid Republican farmer's vote as a reward for vetoing the Ellis milk bill. It is true that he will get some of that class of votes that he would not have had he signed it, but not all farmers, however, are milk producers.

Foss' managers' attempt to have Seaver's name thrown off the official ballot as "Labor" candidate for governor is another evidence that they do not like the looks of things. The state ballot law commission is now considering that matter. The governor's trouble with union labor over his garage and his women core-workers will lose him a part of the labor vote this year. The breaking of his promise to railroad employees not to oust White from the railroad commission will cost him several thousand votes.

But the Republicans must not think that they are going to have a walkover. The Foss cohorts have gotten busy during the last week and they will continue from now on. The Republicans have to fight a desperate and tricky foe. Foss has got the fight of his life on his hands. If he doesn't know it, his friends do, and will govern themselves accordingly. The Republicans must not be overconfident, but must hammer away on the stump.

Walsh's success on the stump is the feature of the Democratic campaign. Everywhere the lieutenant governor candidate is arousing more enthusiasm, receiving heartier applause and making better speeches than the head of the ticket. Luce will have to look out for Walsh, whom the liquor interests will try to elect.

BASEBALL TICKET SCANDAL.

Something May Develop from Situation, According to President Johnson.

Chicago, Oct. 24.—Ban B. Johnson, president of the American league and member of the national baseball commission, who returned from New York Sunday, is not pleased over the manner in which the tickets to the world's series were handled in New York. "It has been an unfortunate series, for besides the nasty weather there's been a lot of scandal connected with the games," said Johnson. "There's no chance for such a thing to put an end to the world's series, for there's too much interest in it and the players are getting so much money."

"However, the way the scalpers got control of the tickets in New York was scandalous. It was even worse than it was in 1908. Had we gone through with our investigation at that time and put one or two men out of baseball, the present ticket scandal would never have taken place. The scalpers in New York have an idea of the tickets they wanted. You could buy any number of seats in one bunch. How they got them I cannot explain. There may be something important develop from the present scandal, but we have no time to take that up now."

Johnson will return to New York.

NEVER SUSPECTED KIDNEY TROUBLE—GAINED FIFTY POUNDS IN WEIGHT

Some time ago I was suffering from what I supposed was indigestion. I became so bad that I could hardly get on my feet from a sitting position. I ran down in weight from 195 to 145 pounds. I tried different kinds of medicine but received little or no help. I saw Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root highly recommended for kidney trouble but I never had any idea that my kidneys were affected. I thought I would try a fifty-cent bottle of Swamp-Root and see what the effect would be. I commenced taking it according to directions and in a few days I saw that it was helping me. I used the fifty-cent bottle and then bought three more dollar bottles and they completely cured me. I have gone back to my original weight—195 pounds—and I am a thorough advocate of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root as I believe it to be a remarkable preparation for what it is recommended to do.

WILLIAM H. PARTCH.

Personally appeared before me this 4th day of September, 1909, Wm. H. Partch, who subscribed the above statement and made oath that the same is true in substance and in fact.

Utterly Wretched

Nervous Prostration Long Endured Before Remedy Was Found. Miss Minerva Reminger, Upper Bern, Pa., writes: "For several years I had nervous prostration, and was utterly wretched. I lived on bread and beef tea because my stomach would not retain anything else. I took many remedies, but obtained no relief until I took Hood's Sarsaparilla, when I began to gain at once. Am now cured."

Pure, rich blood makes good, strong nerves, and this is why Hood's Sarsaparilla, which purifies and enriches the blood, cures so many nervous diseases. Get it today in usual liquid form or chocolate tablets called Sarsatabs.

CUTTING STEPHENSON CASE.

Defense Has One Hundred Witnesses to Tell About Campaign Fund.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 24.—The United States Senate committee, which is investigating the election of Senator Isaac Stephenson, yesterday inquired into conditions at the legislature on March 3, 1909, when the absence of three Democratic assemblymen gave Stephenson a majority. F. R. Zimmerman, a Republican assemblyman, who voted against Stephenson, was questioned concerning the charges that the absentees were bribed to remain away. The witness testified that Thomas Ramsey, one of the absentees, now dead, asserted he was "paired" with a Stephenson supporter and so was not an absentee. Much time was taken up with fixing the status of "pairing" under the legislative rules. It is expected the hearing will be shortened by an arrangement entered into by Charles E. Littlefield, counsel for Senator Stephenson, and the committee. Mr. Littlefield said he had about a hundred witnesses who would testify as to what they did with payments given them out of the $107,000 campaign fund. Instead of calling the witnesses to testify orally, the committee agreed to allow Mr. Littlefield to submit his evidence in the form of affidavits. These affidavits may be submitted after the committee concludes its Milwaukee hearings.

WILEY FOR WOMEN.

Thinks They'd Make as Satisfactory Voters as Men.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 24.—"Woman is truly coming into her own," said Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, chief chemist of the pure food bureau of the department of agriculture, in an address before the National American Woman Suffrage association convention Saturday afternoon. "The other day I read where a man had sued a woman for breach of promise, and on the following day I read an account of a woman who had been arrested on the charge of beating her husband."

Continuing, Dr. Wiley said that were he a candidate he would just as soon leave his chances in the hands of the women as the men. "I've never known a body of organized women to be on the wrong side," he said, "and I don't believe there is going to be a great division in the family when women secure the right of suffrage. As far as the political parties are concerned, I believe they are nearly gone anyway and that women can't save either one of them."

Sunday night a reception was held at the Seelbach by the delegates. The reception closed shortly after 10 o'clock, and the delegates retired to be ready for the fight yesterday, when officers were elected and other important matters were decided.

INVESTIGATE HAWTHORNE MINE.

Witness Called in New York to Testify About Enterprise.

New York, Oct. 24.—Witnesses were summoned yesterday in an investigation which the federal grand jury is said to be making into the affairs and business methods of various mining enterprises promoted by Julian Hawthorne, the writer and son of Nathaniel Hawthorne, the novelist. Josiah Quincy, former mayor of Boston, and J. B. Hanna of Philadelphia, a nephew of the late Senator Hanna, are said to be interested in the Hawthorne mines in Canada. The Hawthorne enterprises are capitalized at several million dollars and the stockholders are scattered all over the country.

GIVEN HARMLESS POWDER.

Andrews Thought He Was Taking Cyanide of Potassium.

New York, Oct. 24.—"I've just taken enough cyanide of potassium to kill ten men," exclaimed John Andrews, an Englishman, as a policeman caught him swallowing a white powder in Park Row yesterday. An ambulance was called and Andrews was rushed to a hospital, where no trace of the drug could be found. Later it was learned that the drug clerk, who was suspicious, had given him a harmless powder when he asked for cyanide. Andrews said he was born in India, the son of a British army officer, and traveled all over the world. He was locked up.

WELL-KNOWN LUMBER DEALER.

William W. Brown, President of Berlin Mills Company, Dead.

Portland, Me., Oct. 23.—William W. Brown, one of the largest timberland owners and pulp manufacturers in New England, president of the Berlin Mills company and Burgess Sulphite Fiber company of Berlin, N. H., died at his home in this city yesterday, aged 90 years.

Mr. Brown was born in Clinton, Me., and lived on a farm until 20 years old. He went to Bangor in 1841, when he subsequently engaged in the lumber business. He came to Portland in 1857 and engaged in the ship timber business until 1868. He then bought out the J. B. Brown interests, which in 1888 were incorporated as the Berlin Mills company. He is survived by a widow and four sons.

DEAD IN NEW YORK.

Man, Believed to Be One Long Sought, No More.

New York, Oct. 24.—The sudden death here of Martin J. Walsh is believed to have ended a world-wide search, lasting more than a year.

Walsh died Sunday night of acute indigestion in an uptown flat. He is said to be the Walsh sought by the United States government to answer an indictment concerning complicity in the wrecking of the National City Bank of Cambridge, Mass., which was looted of several hundred thousand dollars.

MAY HAVE EXTRA JURORS

State Said to Wish This in Order to Prevent Miscarriage

THROUGH SICKNESS JURORS

State Still Working on Supposed Clew

Reported From Salt Lake City Last Week—Woman Will Not Testify.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 24.—With a ruling by Judge Bordwell on the eligibility of the three talesmen who were challenged for cause by the prosecution at last Friday's session, the trial of James B. McNamara, charged with murder in connection with the destruction of the Los Angeles Times plant, went forward yesterday on its second stage. The ruling of the court on the talesmen question, it was thought, would be followed by the filing up of the jury box from the list of waiting veniremen, when the defense would begin all over again its new familiar set of questions. These seek to disclose the minds of the prospective jurors and their attitude toward organized labor in general and toward the defendant in particular.

Considerable speculation has been caused by a report that the prosecution would ask Judge Bordwell to swear in fourteen jurors before the taking of testimony begins, the last two selected to act as alternates. As the trial is expected to last for several months, this method, if employed, it is believed, will eliminate much of the danger of mistrial in case of sickness or death or disqualification for other cause of any of the jurors.

Of the six talesmen who were in the jury box when court adjourned Friday, F. D. Green, an orange grower, Seaborn Manning, a rancher, and Robert F. Bain, a carpenter, were considered the three most likely to be allowed to remain. All had been passed for cause.

It was unofficially admitted that the state is still working on the supposed clew reported from Salt Lake City last week as to the alleged whereabouts of James B. McNamara immediately following the Times explosion.

The district attorney is said still to believe that he can prove that McNamara was sheltered at the home there of J. E. Munsey, agent of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers of America for several days immediately thereafter. Mrs. Munsey has announced that she would not voluntarily testify.

When court convened yesterday, Judge Bordwell first announced that his ruling of Friday disallowing the challenge against F. C. Robinson, was set aside on account of the tangible record, and he would further interrogate him. Robinson then took the stand. The court read some of the answers in the record, asking Robinson his views on capital punishment.

After interrogating Robinson, Judge Bordwell let him go. Robinson was opposed to voting the death penalty on circumstantial evidence.

INTERVENTION NECESSARY.

Germany Does Not Think International Action Probable.

Berlin, Germany, Oct. 24.—The German foreign office has received inquiries from the United States regarding the situation in China.

It is not believed here that international action is required.

BENGALI A TARTAR FOR THE ITALIANS

Landed There After Massacre, but Position Is Almost Untenable.

London, Oct. 24.—The Chronicle's despatches from Tripoli via Malta, dated Sunday, say that the Italians have received a severe check at Bengazi and that their position there is precarious. The statements are based upon native rumors and are not supported by other correspondents.

Apparently the Turks and Arabs put up a fierce fight.

The Times' Malta correspondent telegraphs that the Italians apparently have something to conceal regarding Bengazi, as suddenly a stringent embargo has been placed upon all news.

It is certain that there was quite unexpected resistance there, the Italians for a time having to fight with their backs to the sea, which was so rough as to preclude communication with the ships off-shore.

The Daily Mail's Constantinople correspondent telegraphed that several Turkish destroyers have passed through the Dardanelles, presumably to make an attempt to damage Italian merchant shipping.

ST. LAWRENCE WRECK.

Laval University Students Taken Off Stranded Craft.

Ogdensburg, N. Y., Oct. 24.—The steamship Belleville, with 150 Laval university students of Montreal aboard, was stranded on a shoal in the St. Lawrence river ten miles above here Sunday night. The students had chartered for a trip among the Thousand Islands and were on their way to this city when the accident occurred.

The ferry steambest Miss Vandenberg went to their assistance and all were got off in safety and brought to this place. After spending the day here the students will leave for Montreal by train from Prescott. A wrecking outfit has gone to the scene of the accident.

Dr. Hill has taken apartments in Paris, where he expects to reside later while he is engaged in writing a diplomatic history.

Pierre, S. D., Oct. 24.—After a quiet Sunday in Pierre, President Taft left yesterday for the central and northern part of the state, where yesterday he was the guest of several South Dakota towns. The president was the guest overnight of Congressman Burke here and following breakfast at the Burke home yesterday morning he made a short talk to the school children of the city. Huron, Aberdeen and other towns were on the schedule as yesterday's stopping places for the presidential train.

WHITES AND NEGROES WAR

Presence of Troops the Deterrent to Actual Clash

OKLAHOMA IS STIRRED

White Men Shot and Held Up on Outskirts of Coweta—Soldiers to Disarm Negroes—Threats Made That It Will Be Resisted.

Muskogee, Okla., Oct. 24.—With state troops patrolling the streets, following a night of terror when men were afraid to even move their families from within barricaded homes to the railroad station to get out of town, the little hamlet of Coweta was comparatively quiet yesterday. There is, however, a sullen spirit displayed on every hand by both negroes and whites over the lynching of Edward Suddeth and the shooting of two white men, and trouble may break out at any moment.

The troops patrolled the town all night and will remain on duty during the day. It will be decided later whether they shall remain another night. It is believed, however, that the sheriff of Wagoner county will be able to handle the situation by swearing in 100 special deputies.

The greatest fear arises from an invasion of blacks from the surrounding country. Coweta lies in the heart of a black belt, and if the negroes should be determined they could put 1,000 armed desperate men into Coweta within a few hours.

Yesterday morning, John R. Thompson, a section foreman for the M. K. & T. railroad, was found lying beside the tracks near town with his leg shattered by a bullet fired by negroes. He was shot some time during the night, but was not found until yesterday morning. His assailants are as yet unidentified.

Herman Rea, a white man living in the country, was on his way to Coweta yesterday morning, when he was held up by two negroes at the point of rifles and his arms were taken from him. The negroes then ordered him to proceed.

A report has reached Coweta that two white farmers have been killed in the country, but this cannot be confirmed.

The troops yesterday morning searched the houses of a number of negroes and found arms in all of them. This search will be resumed and the arms taken from the negroes. Some of the negroes openly stated yesterday that they would resist efforts to disarm them. Twelve negroes have already been taken into custody and sent in chains to Wagoner, the county seat. It is expected a notice will be posted before night for all negroes to leave Coweta. The negroes have intimated that they will remain quiet so long as troops remain at Coweta and after that they expect to get revenge.

Oliver and Thompson, the two white men who were wounded, are in a critical condition and not expected to live. Oliver is in a hospital here. B. J. Beavers, the white lawyer who was instantly killed, was a graduate of Leland Stanford university and was prominent and popular in this section of the state. He and the other two white men were innocent bystanders and Beavers' death in particular has aroused the whites to unusual anger.

The riddling of Ed. Suddeth with bullets by white men after he had once been strung up with a rope and let down before he was dead and after he had been turned over to a sheriff, to be conveyed to the county jail at Wagoner, is an indication of the increasing wrath of the white men.

There has been race trouble twice before within the year in or near Coweta. Sunday night's events were an outbreak of cumulative events. While there is much peace talk in Coweta to-day, nevertheless there is also much earnest and secret planning for the final struggle, the purpose of which is once for all to subdue the negroes of the section.

SULPHUR PRODUCTION.

United States Geological Survey Reports a Production of Over $4,500,000.

The United States produced 255,534 long tons of sulphur in 1910, valued at $4,605,112, according to figures compiled by W. C. Phalen, of the United States geological survey, and just published as an advance chapter from "Mineral Resources." This is an increase of 10,222 tons in quantity and $175,046 in value over the output for 1909. The sulphur industry in this country is substantially an American one, for the imports for 1910 were valued at only $558,611, while the exports amounted to $552,941. Four states—Louisiana, Nevada, Utah, and Wyoming—produced practically all of our sulphur. Mr. Phalen discussed the geologic occurrence and technology of sulphur in the 1909 chapter of "Mineral Resources." In the chapter for 1910 he gives a detailed account of the important foreign sulphur deposits—those of Italy, Japan, and other countries.

The report also contains the statistics of production of pyrites in the United States, which in 1910 amounted to 238,154 long tons, valued at $958,608. The imports of this mineral were largely in excess of the domestic production, being 803,551 long tons in 1910, valued at $2,748,647. A copy of the report on the production of sulphur and pyrites in 1910 can be had on application to the director of the United States geological survey, Washington, D. C.

ABSENTEE STATUTE VALID.

Supreme Court Upholds Fourteen-Year Law of Massachusetts.

Washington, Oct. 24.—The "absentee" statute of Massachusetts providing for the distribution of the property of a person who has been unaccountably absent from the state for more than fourteen years was yesterday upheld as constitutional by the supreme court of the United States. Justice Holmes announced the opinion.

The constitutionality of the law was raised when George E. Nelson of West Pullman, Ill., and four other cousins claimed the property of Miss Mabel Allen. Miss Allen left Boston in 1892 to attend the world's fair. In Chicago she called upon a relative, but since, it is said, she has not been heard from. The property was inherited by Miss Allen after her disappearance and was part of the "French spoliation claim" awarded to the heirs of Jonathan Merry, a ship merchant of Boston, about a century ago.

Justice Holmes announced that the decision of the case had been delayed because of an affidavit that Miss Allen had been found. Inasmuch as parties had seemingly adopted some other method of trying out their identity or rights, Justice Holmes said the court would no longer delay its decision.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY.

Autopsy to Determine Whether Maine Boy Was Drowned.

Bath, Me., Oct. 24.—Mrs. Mildred T. Keefe pleaded not guilty to the charge of murdering her 3-year-old son, whose body was found in a pool of stagnant water, when formally arraigned yesterday before Judge A. J. Duntin in the municipal court. By agreement of County Attorney A. H. Stetson and her counsel, the case was postponed one week and a hearing will be held next Monday. She was held without bail.

An autopsy on the body was performed yesterday to determine positively whether death was caused by drowning and that a complete report might be made to the coroner's jury, which is investigating.

New York, Oct. 24.—Wisconsin is to be added to the list of states to be officially represented in opposition to the reorganization plan of the American Tobacco company, according to advices here. McGovern of Wisconsin to represent the tobacco growers and manufacturers of Wisconsin and had accepted. He will probably be designated a special attorney general of Wisconsin for this purpose, it is stated.
